

257e Design, Construction and Operation of a Biodiesel Plant Using a Novel Feedstock

Trey Fleming and Dean A. Blackwell

Founders of a grassroots biodiesel production facility, including use of a novel feedstock, and a biodiesel plant design/construction company will present some of their experiences in getting into the businesses of biodiesel production and commercial plant engineering.