

259i On Fluctuations in Polymer Solutions: Field Theoretic Simulations

Kirill Katsov and Glenn Fredrickson

We use variety of approaches to sample equilibrium fluctuations in polymer systems within a field theoretic framework. Comparison of (complex) Langevin and (smart) Monte Carlo sampling techniques is presented with special attention paid to their efficient implementation.